GENERAL NEWS.

TORONTO, June 30.—The cornerstones of four factories were laid at Mimico Saturday afternoon. A special train went out from the city with several hundred people, and a free lunch was provided on the grounds. There is plenty of capital in the concern, and a strong effort is to be made to build up a great manufacturing suburb.

The World this morning suggests the break up of the Liberal party over the trade question, mainly on the ground that Blake, as it says, does not favor commercial union, and further suggests the possibility of the Conservative party adopting him as leader when Sir John goes.

STERLING, June 30.—On Thursday, 26th, a child belonging to S. Skimshaw, residing ten miles from here, strayed away from home and has not since been heard from. Neighbors have been out searching, but failed to find any trace of it.

OTTAWA, June 30.—The case against Hopkins, counterfeiter, now in Albany, N.Y., awaiting extradition, has failed. It is expected the Justice Department will proceed against him on a new charge.

MONTREAL, June 30.—It is stated that Hon. Mr. Joly, ex-premier of Quebec, will join Mr. Mercier's cabinet in place of Col. Rhodes, and that a local member will resign in favor of Joly. Should this arrangement be carried out, it will meet with the approval not merely of the Liberals and Protestants of this province, but with that of a large portion of Conservatives and Bleus.

OTTAWA, June 30.—Dewdney expects to return from Cape Breton on the 3rd and after remaining a couple of days proceeds on his westward trip.

STERLING, Ont., June 30.—Martin's saw and door factory burned to day; loss, $8,000.

PEMBROKE, Ont., June 30.—Fire burnt four buildings here last night. Loss, $10,000; insured for $6,000.

DRUMMONDVILLE, Que., June 30.—A storehouse containing machinery belonging to the Watson Manufacturing Co., and Shaw Bros., at Cassils, was burned this morning. Loss $12,000, partly covered by insurance.

"CROOKED PROCEEDINGS IN HIGH PLACES."

Some weeks ago the Saskatchewan published an article, "Crooked proceedings in high places," which attracted considerable attention among those who were more or less connected with that institution, which, it was claimed, was being dishonestly treated by those at the head of the Presbyterian Church. We have already called attention to the serious nature of the article, and would not again refer to it had not a late issue of the same paper, in mentioning the proposed visit of Dr. Warden and Rev. Mr. Macdonnell, neglected to give interested citizens any further information as to the circumstances which led up to the present difficulties and seem to have made such a visit necessary. In our previous article we expressed a hope "That it would be found that the Academy Trustees had zealously performed their duties." This we regret to learn, through outside sources, has not been the case, but rather that the General Assembly of the Church not only uphold the action of the synod, but condemn that of the local Board of Trustees, among whom Dr. Jardine was the leading spirit. The doctor—in his desire to have the public prejudice the case—has not hesitated to use the editorial columns of his paper in abusing the synod for their actions. He should now use the same organ for the purpose of laying the whole question before the people. The public are interested, they have invested their money in an institution on the understanding that Trustees would guard their investments; perhaps they have. The Synod and General Assembly say not, and the only explanation the public have received from them is the strong editorial written by their leader. We hope the late Board will yet be found in the right, but satisfactory information of such a nature seems a long time in coming.

On several occasions we have been obliged to call attention to the great lack of knowledge displayed by the editor of our local contemporary on questions local and foreign. A good-natured public have swallowed his special edition nine foot grass chesnut, they have stood tamely by and watched his efforts as the equalizer of scores in an exceedingly interesting game of cricket, but we never for a moment realized that the managing editor honestly thought the public should believe everything he wrote, until in this week's edition we notice he desires to raise a row simply because all his articles are not republished. Go on, brother, a long suffering people will yet take their revenge.

We have no desire to interfere with any arrangement which may have been made respecting the distribution of the Prince Albert district pamphlet, but would suggest the importance of a large number of them being sent into Montana and other border states. As remarked in a previous issue, these states hold a large population who at the present time are looking for new homes, and no pains should be spared by our people, in trying to impress upon them the many advantages offered in this highly favored district. We understand Mr. Betts has already received a list of names from Mr. De la Jardié, and will forward books to them at once. These people are good farmers, and it is said they are anxious to locate in Canadian territory. A little time spent in looking up other districts similarly situated would do much good.

The gopher pest according to the Winnipeg Free Press is receiving little or no attention from the hands of the Manitoba Government. This is a marked contrast to the active steps taken by the Territorial Government who by their prompt action in connection with this same pest have done a work which will save many thousands of dollars to affected districts. People who do not realize the amount of injury it is possible for gophers to do may abuse the Advisory Council for the stand they have taken on this and other questions, but the farmer—the man interested—will appreciate their efforts.

Could not our immigration committee prevail on Hon. Mr. Dewdney to extend his western trip so as to take in Prince Albert. It is important that the necessity of an immediate survey north of the river should be impressed upon him, as head of the Interior Department. This could easily be done, were Mr. Dewdney here. Apart from his official importance, the public would be delighted with a visit, which at this season of the year would display our fields and gardens in their richest dress.

HINTS TO RIFLEMEN.

HOLDING.—The barrel must be held perfectly true, not inclining the top toward the ground at either side; in other words, if the top of the barrel is a flat surface, it should be parallel with an exact horizontal plane. If the sight is inclined downward to the left hand, for example, its top or sighting point is lowered, and the error is greatly increased at the back sight. The ball will then go to the left of the mark. By raising the top of a Verner sight to its highest point, and turning the rifle to the left and right, this fact will be demonstrated. At the same time the elevation of the vision-hole will be reduced, and the ball will therefore fall short of the object. In the long-range rifles a spirit level is attached to the front sight in mid range target shooting, but one should rather strive to be independent of its use, for the object of efficient shooting is to attain practical skill, serviceable in the field. Of course the amount of error from this cause varies with the distance shot over.

DEFLECTION.—The effect of the wind upon the ball is the most difficult problem the rifleman copes with. He can not, in service, more than estimate its strength, though of course on the target ground an exact measurement is possible. Even if known, the force is inconstant, varying both with succeeding minutes at the same point, and at different points of a long range on the same moment. The greater the weight of the projectile, the less, naturally, it is affected by the wind, and for this reason the heavy balls, used at long distances, show such marked superiority over lighter missiles whose range might be sufficient. The following table, showing the error of a ball on the target at the different distances given, will be found of service in making the needed allowances:

TABLE OF ALLOWANCES FOR WIND.

Velocity in Miles per Hour	Gentle 4	Moderate 10	Fresh 16	Strong 20	Very High 24	Gale 30
Yards	100	200	300	400	500	600
200	0	3.0	5.0	7.0	9.1	11.1
300	0	3.0	8.1	10.1	12.1	14.1
400	0	2.1	6.1	8.2	10.3	12.4
500	0	1.0	6.2	8.3	10.4	12.5
600	1	4.2	0.3	6.3	8.4	10.5
700	1	8.3	0.4	6.4	8.5	10.6
800	2	0.1	0.6	6.5	8.6	10.7
900	2	8.5	0.7	6.6	8.7	10.8
1,000	3	6.7	0.1	0.6	0.2	0.3

A side wind from the left carries a ball further from a true line than if from the right, because in one case the "drift" of the projectile coincides with and in the other opposes its force.

VARIATION IN ELEVATIONS.—A known elevation for a given distance is modified by circumstances. A rear wind elevates the ball; head wind depresses; if from the side, depresses. On hot days the elevation must be a little less, on cold a little more; at 500 yards it is advised to shoot about two feet lower than your present elevation, if the clouds should shade yourself and not the target, and two feet higher if the reverse. If shooting toward the sun, and it is suddenly obscured, go two feet lower; if from the sun an equal distance higher.

DRIFT.—The grooves of the rifle barrel are generally made to run with the sun from left to right, and the action of the air on the ball so rotated causes it to go to the right of a true aim. The ratio of this error depends upon the rapidity of the twist, and the amount, of course, on distance shot over; with a complete revolution of the ball in 6 1/4 feet the drift is a little over 10 feet at 900 yards. An average allowance, for ordinary rifles, would be 3 1/2 of an inch at 800 yards, 5 1/2 at 1,000 yards, made by moving the front sight that much to the right.

TRAJECTORY.—The instant the ball quits the barrel it commences to fall toward the earth, and the object of the elevating rear sight is to compensate for this by raising the muzzle sufficient to throw the ball so high that at the terminal point it will have fallen to the proper level. In target shooting, the effect of gravity is of comparatively little importance, for with a known and constant distance the proper adjustment of sight is possible, although errors arise from the state of the atmosphere, its clearness or cloudiness, density, etc. In actual service on the hunting field, it is more troublesome than the wind, for you must estimate the distance with the eye in every case, while the wind is often still, or directly to or from you. Therefore it is of the very first importance to learn to estimate distances readily with the eye, by practice on measured ground.

In one second the ball has fallen a little over 16 feet; at the end of two seconds, 48 1/4 feet; at the end of three seconds, 80 1/2 feet, nearly. Now if a ball had a known velocity at a start, and maintained it undiminished to the close, the amount of its fall could at once be foretold, but the resistance of the atmosphere constantly checks its speed, so it will have gone over less space in each succeeding second until spent. For a like reason its fall in a given distance depends upon its initial velocity, or the speed at which it commences its journey, which varies with different guns, according to the proportional quantity and weight of powder and ball, greater or less friction in the barrel, and loss of power from windage, etc.

GENERAL NEWS.

QUEBEC, June 30.—Chas. Langelier was today sworn in as President of the Council in place of Hon. Mr. Mercier, who assumes the duties of Commissioner of Agriculture pro tem, vice Col. Rhodes, who has retired to private life. It is generally thought that this arrangement is not decisive and that another will take place later on. The following gentlemen were sworn into office to-day by Lieutenant Anger: Mercier, Duhamel, Gauthier, Shehyn, Marchand, and Gustave Grenier, as clerk of the Executive Council.

London, June 30.—Olga Labonski, a young Russian lady of high birth, has started from St. Petersburg on a journey to Odessa on horseback. Mlle Labonski, who is only nineteen years of age, has waged 50,000 roubles on the success of her trip, and is accompanied by a committee charged with the duty of seeing that the terms of the wager are complied with.

The Brussels correspondent of the Times says that at the last moment the representative of Holland has withdrawn the admission of his nation to the clause of the anti-slavery convention which relates to the arrangement of duties on imports into the Congo State.

The governments of Germany, Italy and England have united in the establishment of a joint court of justice in Zanzibar.

The Prince of Wales will give the sum of £25 to the Stanley fund for placing a steamer on the Victoria Nyanza.

A Buenos Ayres dispatch to the Times says the National Bank suspended on Saturday last. Shares fell from 108 to 100, finally closing at 118. As a consequence the bourse became panicky and a feeling of general distrust prevailed. In commercial and financial circles gold is held at a premium of 148. Later in the day a despatch was received in London, stating that the bank had merely suspended dividends and had not failed.

Paris, June 30.—Michael Eyraud, the murderer of M. Gouffe, a court bailiff, and who after having been arrested in Havana was brought back in the custody of French detectives from that city to St. Nazaire on the steamer Lafayette, arrived in Paris this morning.

Toronto, June 30.—The carnival festivities opened very successfully this evening, with a great promenade concert on Jarvis street. Between Queen and Bloor, a distance of a mile and a quarter the street was crowded with people from seven o'clock till eleven, promenading up and down on the sidewalks or on the asphalted roadway. All vehicular traffic on the street was suspended for the evening, and the people enjoyed themselves listening to the music of the bands. The houses and grounds on both sides in almost every case were bedecked with Chinese lanterns, giving a decidedly attractive appearance to the street and the whole effect was enhanced by the electric lights erected by the city. The bands playing were twelve in number. Very many visitors from the country around are in town, the streets are gaily decorated and crowded with people.

Detective Rogers this afternoon arrested F. C. Atwood on the charge of communicating by letter with outside parties and offering to buy up counterfeit money. One of the letters fell into the hands of the police.

Ottawa, June 30.—Arrangements are being rapidly prosecuted by the executive of the Dominion Rifle Association for the annual meeting, which commences here on September 1st. The meeting is expected to be the largest and best yet held by the association. The cost will aggregate $7,392, nearly $100 more than last year. The representatives of the army and navy team are expected to be the same as last year.

Hon. John Carling has not yet received a reply from Sir Charles Tupper in relation to the 2,500 Helgolanders, whom the Minister of Agriculture is desirous of securing for Canada, if they persist in their intention of emigrating from the island in the event of the Anglo-German agreement being carried out.

Halifax, June 30.—By the middle of this week the cable between Halifax and Bermuda will be in operation. A message received from Westmeath at 5 p.m. announced that she had reached Bermuda having laid the cable successfully all the way from Halifax, the end being a few miles off shore.

A petition was filed in the Supreme Court to-day against the election of Premier Fielding, Speaker Power and W.

Roche, M.P.'s, on the ground of bribery and corruption and seeking their personal disqualification.

QUEBEC, June 30.—G. Brown, a carter, found some time ago in the cellar of a house an old Lutheran bible printed in French, published in Amsterdam in 1669. It bears on the title page the signature of S. Desmarests, professor of theology in the University of Holland. It has been placed for safe keeping in the vaults of Casse Denominique.

RAT PORTAGE, June 30.—Mining matters are booming here, but all are very much excited and interested over the Mather injunction case, which is to be tried in Toronto on the 28th.

PORT ELGIN, June 30.—Miss Sibylla Limer, of Milimay, aged 18, got beyond her depth while bathing in the Saugen river near here to-day and was drowned.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—It is certain that the Republicans will vote against the National Election bill, and capital gossip has it that several other members of the majority party will also oppose either by a direct vote or by abstaining themselves when the vote is taken.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 30.—The president and general manager of the Fishbach rolling mills of the Pottsville Iron and Steel company refused to sign the wage scale and 800 men struck to-day. The iron makers all over the country have signed this scale. It is to the effect that employers will continue the present rate of wages until there is an advance in the price of iron, when there will be an increase of wages. The men are very quiet and orderly and no disturbance is apprehended. It is hardly possible that the strike will be settled before next week.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Speaking on the subject of adjournment, Speaker Reed said this morning: "The question rests entirely with the Senate. For the first time in many years, the House is ahead of the Senate with public business. Over on this side we could wind up the session next week, but of course we shall not be able to do so." Nearly all the senators agree in thinking that adjournment cannot take place before August, and several think that the session may run into September.

CARLEISLE, Pa., June 30.—John Kamper, a railroad employee at Huntsdale, has been arrested, charged with the murder of his wife, who died, Thursday, shortly after he had given her what he said was painkiller. Mrs. Kamper's brother instigated the proceedings against the prisoner, and he has procured evidence from neighbors that Kamper had treated his wife badly and threatened to put her out of the way. Mrs. Kamper's body will be exhumed to-day and an inquest held.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 30.—At North Bend on Saturday night a west bound freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad was derailed and eight cars were wrecked. The Pacific express ran into the wreck and its engine was smashed. Traffic was delayed several hours. Milard Hilton, a section hand, was thrown under the freight train while going to the wreck, and sustained fatal injuries.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—The Roman Catholic cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul at 18th and Race streets, was consecrated to-day. Distinguished prelates, with Cardinal Gibbons at the head, were in attendance. The ceremonies solemnizing the edifice lasted four hours. Solemn pontifical mass began at 11, with the largest congregation ever seen in Philadelphia.

FORT BENTON, Mont.—Captain D. H. Macpherson of the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police with a detail of men under command of Corp. Armet arrived from Lethbridge N. W. T., yesterday afternoon for the purpose of conveying Francis X. Bertrand and James McLean across the line to Fort Macleod for trial on a charge of grand larceny. Capt. Macpherson bears a warrant from the Governor-General of Canada for the persons above named, proceedings in extradition having been begun at the last term of our district court, and the prisoners were remanded to the Canadian authorities, sufficient evidence having been procured at the hearing to prove their guilt. The requisit papers from the state department of the United States Government and from Governor Toole, however have not yet been received, and Capt. Macpherson will have to await their arrival before he can get his prisoners. The papers are expected this evening.—River Press.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

In Our Midst.

Aspinall's Enamel at Cann's bookstore. A complete assortment of groceries at F. C. Baker's.

The water in the river is still very high. Messrs. Ross and Mann spent a day in town this week.

J. L. Reid and E. Stanley came in from Red Deer Lake yesterday.

You want to read T. O. Davis' advertisement in another column.

T. O. Davis and family have gone to Duck Lake for a few days camping out.

N. Mosgrave, representing Nixon & Co., boots and shoes, Winnipeg, arrived here on Thursday.

R. J. Hart and family left for their new station at the Crooked Lakes on Wednesday last.

Strawberries are very plentiful just now and the squaws are making lots of money picking them.

T. Blackwood, of Blackwood Bros., Winnipeg, came down the river from Battleford on Monday last.

Mr. I. Cowie and wife arrived in from Isle la Crosse on Monday last, and left for Winnipeg Wednesday.

Betts & Gwynne have opened a full line of fancy biscuits and crackers. Simply looking at the display makes one hungry.

Joe Macfarlane has disposed of his farm to H. J. Moberly. We understand the figures were in the neighborhood of $3,000.

Mr. N. Mackenzie of the H. B. Co.'s post here has been transferred to Battleford, and leaves for there by steamer tomorrow.

Something new and nobby in town this week. This time it is T pots. You will find them at the emporium of fashion, T. O. Davis.

The crops throughout the district are looking splendidly. In fact, we have never seen them looking better at this season of the year.

H. Macleughan, Duck Lake, arrived in town yesterday. The genial Mac will have charge of the telegraph ticker here for a couple of weeks.

T. E. Jackson has started his Soda Fountain for the summer season, and is prepared to furnish finely flavored ice-cold beverages at ten cents a glass.

Judge McGuire leaves for Regina tomorrow where he will attend a sitting of the Court en banc. His Honor will pay a visit to his old home at Kingston before returning.

The regular practice on the rifle range is being attended very well this year. Evidently Mr. Agnew's prize for the best average in five practices has had the desired effect.

H. J. Moberly, who has been spending some few days in this district, left for Winnipeg on Thursday morning. While here, Mr. Moberly made some large investments in real estate.

The steamer Northwest, Capt. J. M. Smith, arrived up from Grand Rapids on Friday morning—the first boat of the season. She had on a large quantity of freight for Battleford, Edmonton and other points north of here, chiefly H. B. Co. property.

Hams, breakfast bacon, spiced roll and Ontario cheese at F. C. Baker's.

E. J. Rankin, who has been in charge of the Dominion telegraph station here for the past three years, leaves for Winnipeg on Monday next to take a position in the town office of the C. P. R. Mr. Rankin was a good citizen and his departure will be regretted by the many friends he had made during his residence here. We wish Mr. Rankin and family every success in their new home.

Follow the crowd and you will find F. C. Baker. He is doing more business than ever.

Mr. Agnew and Sergt. Parker of our local cricket teams received a letter last mail from Mr. Ashby of the Battleford Club asking them to play in the tournament arranged to open at Saskatoon on the 28th inst. Two teams from Regina and one from Qu'Appelle will also be there. Owing to the two league matches to be held here the same week, the town clubs say they will not be able to muster an eleven to meet the other cricketers at Saskatoon—We hope the visitors will continue their journey to Prince Albert and play here after the completion of the matches there.

COMMUNICATIONS.

It must be distinctly understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by correspondents. THE DISTRICT PAMPHLET.

To the Editor of the Times.

SIR,—The general criticism of the local pamphlet has been of the fairest; allowances have been made for the inexperience of its compiler, while the printer has received general praise for the credible manner in which his portion of the work has been performed. A whine has however been heard from the sanctum of the Saskatchewan, and the writer of a laborious M.S. takes umbrage at the rejection of a portion of his article; a rejection made necessary through no fault of myself, and one that can easily be explained should any person so desire. Knowing all the circumstances as well as the injured writer certainly does, I wonder he did not hesitate before bringing the question to the attention of the public. My actions have not pleased him, but no other course was open to me, and I regret that even he is dissatisfied. You are fully acquainted with all the causes which led up to the rejection, and should any further whines be heard from your contemporary you are at perfect liberty to publish them.

Yours truly

J. F. BETTS.
